"THE NUMISMATIST"

The Pleasures and Profits of Coin Collecting.

(From an editorial in the Cleveland, Ohio, "Plaindealer.")

"Of all well established hobbies that of the numismatist is probably the most useful and instructive. The man who finds recreation and delight in the collecting of coins is consciously or unconsciously a student of some phase of human progress, and by his labor he is adding to mankind's knowledge of mankind. Most thirty-third degree numismatists are ardent specialists. Some particular period or some limited area occupies most of their attention. It may be Greek silver or Roman bronze or Byzantine gold or Chinese antiques or British pennies or Swedish coppers or Jewish shekels or American colonials or Civil War tokens or California gold ranging from twenty-five cent pieces to fifty-dollar pieces; but whatever it is the collector becomes necessarily intimate with the history and with the people who made the coins. No written page could possibly bring so vividly to mind the story of a nation or a period as the actual coins which were a part of every day life and which are themselves imperishable history.

"Stamp collecting is more popular; but postage stamps cover but a brief and very recent space of time. Coins cover the advance of mankind from the dawn of civilization. Greek coins tell the story of every Hellenic city. Roman coins present the history of every emperor, every usurper or pretender. Down through the Middle Ages the complicated history of Europe is made clear not only by the accepted national coinages but also by the emergency pieces, siege pieces, religious tokens, political medals. American coins, like American history, appeal strongly to Americans; and the specialists in American numismatics have a broad field not only in the accepted and experimental coins of the republic but also in state issues—like the Mormon coins of Utah—and in the varied series of colonial coins and the quaint issues of revolutionary times.

"With such a wide range for the choice of special interests it is not amazing that the American numismatists are able to present a visible and tangible record of human progress from ancient through medieval to modern times. Quite reasonably these men hold they are not mere collectors. They are students, and their studies command a respect which is not so clearly merited by collectors in many other fields."

To interest everyone receiving this Catalogue, I am offering here mighty interesting coins, bills, etc., at very fair prices. You are also assured that your dealings with me will be pleasant and profitable to you.

Please Read These Terms and General Information

All coins offered here are average nice specimens, all are guaranteed genuine and this guarantee holds good indefinitely. It pays to buy good coins as good specimens usually advance in value.

The prices in this list are strictly net and no discount from them can be given. Prices are necessarily subject to change, because of changing market conditions. But please remember that you are fully protected by my guarantee of satisfaction or money refunded if for any reason you are not satisfied.

Postage and insurance is extra. I am not responsible for safe delivery of parcels sent by ordinary mail.

Orders for less than $1.00 are respectfully declined as we are unable to handle them without loss.

Make remittances by bank draft, money order, or by registered mail.

When ordering please state the number of the lot desired and the price. Write plainly, and be sure to give full name and address every time you write. Also state if I may substitute, and the lots you want as substitutes, as at times we may be out of some coins.

I possess a large stock of coins, paper money, etc., of all denominations and degrees of rarity. If your collection is advanced and you need only certain dates to fill in, kindly let me know your wants.

I hold frequent auction sales of coins, etc. If interested, see page 46 for information about free catalogues.

I am always in the market for the purchase of rare coins or entire collections, and offer the highest market prices for them. For a complete list of all rare American coins, showing prices I pay for them, see the Star Rare Coin Encyclopedia, over 200 pages, fully illustrated, price $1.00.

I conduct the largest and most modern Numismatic Establishment in the country, devoting my entire time, together with a large force of assistants, to the coin business exclusively. I own and occupy my own building. With our large business and financial responsibility and reputation, you are assured that your dealings with us will prove pleasant and profitable to you.

Keep this list for reference. All orders filled promptly. Satisfaction guaranteed in every respect. Address all communications to

LARGE U. S. COPPER CENTS

Coinage began 1793, discontinued in 1857. None coined in 1815.

The following represent the principal varieties of the Large Copper Cents. There are a large number of minor varieties; for instance, there are over fifty die varieties of the 1794 alone. It is, of course, impossible to keep a complete stock at all times, but I have a large and fine stock, special lists of which are issued from time to time and sent free to my customers.

You will get more value and satisfaction by paying a little more for the better class of coins, especially in large cents.

Large Cent Set No. 12

Fifty Large Cents from 1794 to 1857, dates not consecutive; about 30 different dates of my selection. Fair to good condition. Price, $6.85.

(Containing some Cents priced at over $1.00.)

Special Collection of Large U. S. Cents

Fifty (50) different dates, representing each and every date excepting 14, in which the large cents were issued, 1794 to 1857. The condition of the collection runs as follows: The early dates in fair to good condition; 1810 and 1823 good to very good; all others, good to extra fine. A collection that would take much time and patience to form and would cost much more if bought separately and prices steadily advancing. Copper Cents form one of the most interesting series of the entire U. S. Coinage.

Price for the Entire Collection only $14.25

U. S. SILVER TRADE DOLLARS

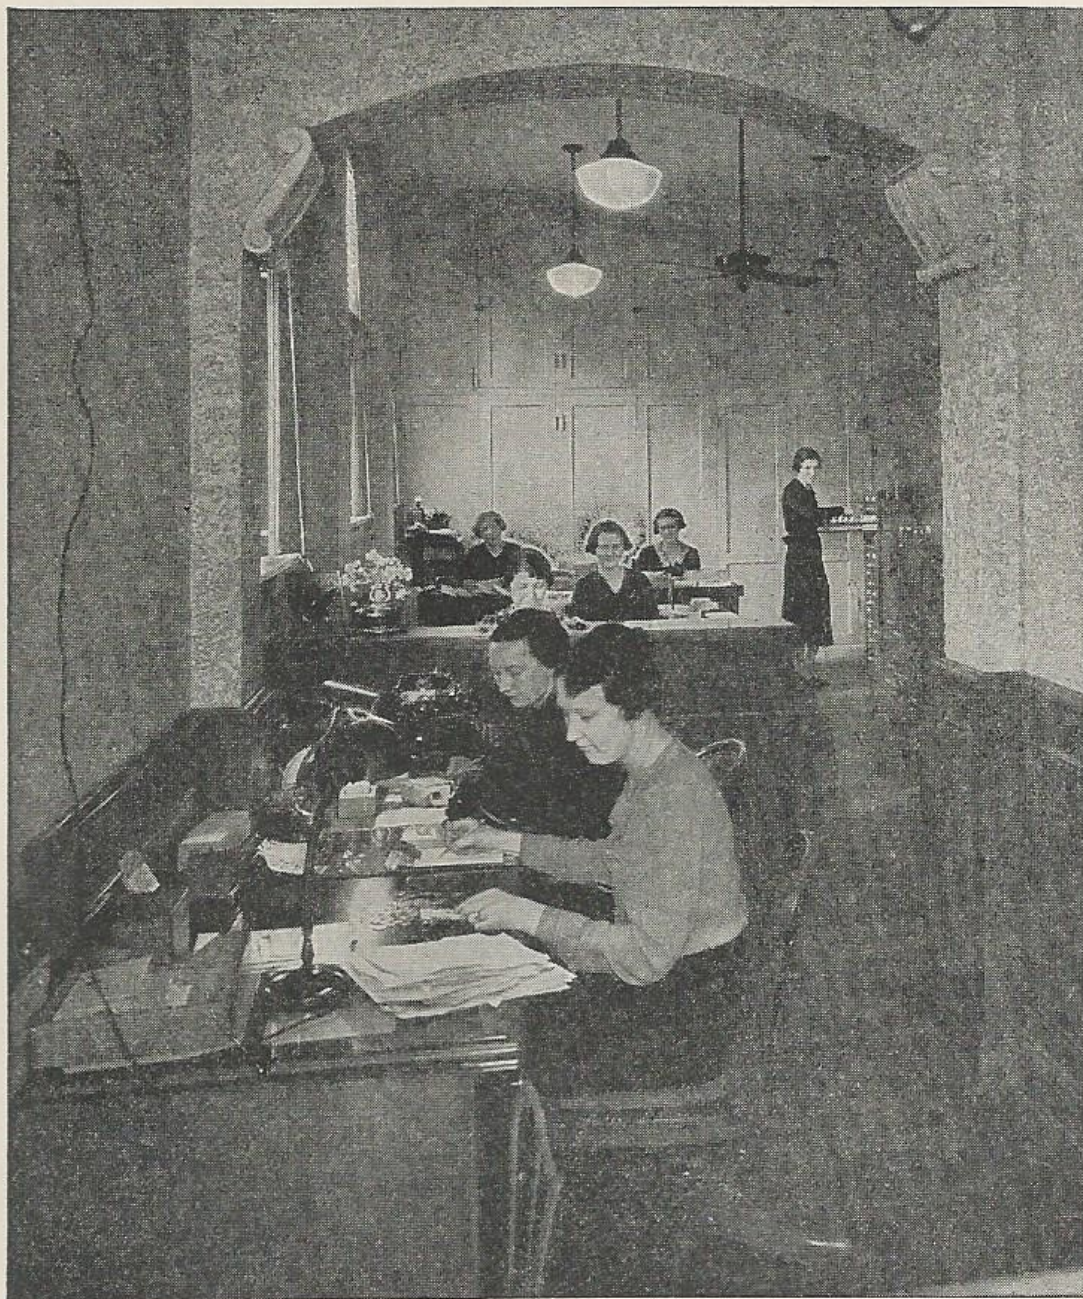

The Trade Dollars were not intended for circulation in the United States, but for export to China. It was designated to compete with the Spanish and Mexican dollar current there at that time. Coinage commenced in 1873. Repudiated in 1884. Redeemed in 1887. They were coined from 1873 to 1877 in large quantities, and from 1878 to 1883 in proof only. The Trade Dollar weighs more than any other dollar.

24 hours after they are received.

U. S. Silver Commemorative Coins

These coins are all legal tender; they were issued to commemorate some important events in our country's history. They were all issued by the Government, but were not placed in circulation, but sold at a premium, and their issue or number of coins limited. They are all, of course, very interesting, of special designs, and now very scarce and are steadily advancing in value.

As the prices on the commemorative half dollars constantly fluctuate a special list of these coins is enclosed with this Price List.

Here Is A Special Bargain In Commemorative Half-Dollars AS A STARTER FOR YOU

I will send you ten (10) all different Commemorative Half-Dollars—all in brand new condition—the ten for only Ten Dollars!

My selection only, but I assure you you'll get your money's worth!

Wood's Coinage for America

Coined in Ireland but rejected there and sent to America where they circulated. Historically interesting. These coins are over 200 years old.

1723 Halfpenny. Fine portrait of George I. Reverse, Hibernia seated with harp. Price only 75 cents.

1723 Wood's Farthing. Same design as last, but smaller and far more rare. Listed up to $1.50 each, but price only $1.10.

Or the pair; the Halfpenny and Farthing, for only $1.65 for the pair.

Irish Gun Money

Coins struck from captured cannon, all over 225 years old. All dated before 1700, mostly dated 1689.

Half-Crown or 30 Shilling Piece. Bust of James II. Rev., crown. Coin slightly larger than our Half-Dollar. Each, $1.45.

(Some of these bring up to $4.00 and $5.00 each. Some dated with different months of the year.)

Gun Money, same design as last, Half Crown, but of the smaller type. Very scarce. Each, $1.45.

Gun Money, Shilling. Very interesting historically, and very scarce. Each, $1.15.

The set of three different, all about fine, only $3.65 for the three.

PAPER MONEY FOR SALE

United States Fractional Currency

Immediately after specie payments were suspended in the early part of 1862 when gold and silver coins disappeared from circulation, the place of subsidiary silver coins was for a time supplied by tickets, due-bills and other forms of private obligations, which were issued by merchants and corporations. Congress soon authorized the use of postage stamps for change and then a modified form of postage stamps called postage currency, and finally fractional currency in denominations corresponding to the subsidiary silver coins.

This currency is legal tender and is very scarce. A set or collection of the fractional currency always proves of great interest to any one, whether a coin collector or not.
